Main purpose of the job

The Deputy Dean at the London Geller College of Hospitality and Tourism is responsible for leading and managing the academic programmes within the college, with a particular focus on aviation, tourism, culinary and hospitality. The role involves strategic planning, fostering industry partnerships, enhancing student engagement and success, and driving innovation in curriculum development. The Deputy Dean will play a crucial role in ensuring the college maintains its reputation for excellence and continues to provide high-quality education that prepares students for successful careers in the global hospitality and aviation industries.

Key areas of responsibility

1. Academic Leadership

- Oversee the development, delivery, and enhancement of academic programmes in aviation culinary and hospitality.
- Ensure the curriculum remains innovative, industry-relevant, and aligned with the college's strategic goals.
- Direct line management responsibility of both faculty and administrative staff.

2. Strategic Planning

- Develop and implement strategic initiatives to advance the college's mission and vision.
- Collaborate with senior leadership to set and achieve long-term goals.

3. Industry Collaboration

- Foster strong partnerships with industry stakeholders to enhance academic offerings and provide students with real-world opportunities.
- Lead initiatives that integrate industry trends and practices into the curriculum.

4. Research and Development

- Promote and support research activities within the college, particularly in areas such as AI and sustainability.
- Ensure research findings are effectively integrated into teaching and learning.

5. Student Engagement and Success

- Implement strategies to improve student engagement, satisfaction, and outcomes.
- Create a supportive and inclusive learning environment that caters to diverse student needs.

6. Team Management

- Lead and manage a diverse team of academic and administrative staff.
- Resolve challenges and foster a collaborative and productive work environment.

7. Quality Assurance

- Ensure academic programmes meet high standards of quality and accreditation requirements.
- Monitor and evaluate programme performance and implement improvements as needed.

8. Policies and Procedures

Ensure adherence to all university policies and procedures.

In addition to the above areas of responsibility the post-holder may be required to undertake any other reasonable duties relating to the broad scope of the position, commensurate with the post, and in support of the University.
